MINUTES OF THE NOVEMBER 14, 2024 BOARD OF EDUCATION

Work Session and Regular Board Meeting

Thanks to Mitra Vazeen for the pumpkin pie!

The Board of Education met in Executive Session pursuant to ORS 192.660(2)(i) to review and evaluate the President's performance. Executive Session was convened at 4:30 pm and adjourned at 4:55 pm.

Work Session

Board Members Present: Ashley Flukinger, Ed Johnson, Tim Lyman, Lloyd Mueller, Sheila Roley, Jody

Stahancyk, Mitra Vazeen

Others Present: President Jarrod Hogue, Recording Secretary Felicity Green

Chair Ed Johnson called the meeting to order at 4:58 pm.

President Hogue spoke about his goals, which he created to mesh with the strategic plan.

Goal 1: By the end of 2024-25, the College will achieve 925 reimbursable student FTE. President Hogue began by explaining FTE, or full time equivalent enrollment, which accounts for about 20% of College revenues. He said that this goal, which represents a roughly 3 – 5% increase from the 2023-24 FTE of 883, is a stretch but he believes the College can do it as retention improves. Tim Lyman said that he felt it was important that FTE be broken down into departments rather than being presented as one number. He also stated that he felt CCC should focus more on current technical education rather than traditional college education as he did not believe the College would be in the general education business much longer.

Goal 2: By March 28, 2025 staff will have access to detailed enrollment dashboards and weekly enrollment updates will be shared with all staff.

President Hogue explained that the date was picked at random and may change over the year. He said that he wants the staff and board to have access to detailed enrollment dashboards and weekly enrollment updates and that he has been working with Ian Wilson in house and Justin Smith at Linn-Benton to make these available. He said that he hopes that as the system gets built out it will gain more and more functionality. He noted that one of the Ellucian components which the College has contracted for is visual analytics and reporting and he hopes that will add to the dashboard over time.

There was some discussion of Linn-Benton, who are contracted by the College to provide reporting and data services; they handle federal and state reporting needs for CCC. The College pays around $60,000 a year to participate in Linn-Benton's data reporting service.

Goal 3: By January 31, 2025 95% of all full-time staff (Classified and S&S Staff) will have an updated annual performance evaluation signed on file with HR. President Hogue said that staff evaluations have fallen off the radar and that is not acceptable. He has met with leadership to address this important issue. There was some discussion of job descriptions and whether it would be possible for staff to sign them when hired. Human Resources is in the process of updating all College job descriptions to ensure that they match current job duties.

Goal 4: By February 1, 2025, the President will work with the Facilities Director to complete a 10-year facilities maintenance plan. The President stressed that this is not a master plan but instead will focus on delayed maintenance needs. He hopes that with a maintenance plan, critical projects can be identified, approached and knocked off one by one, prioritizing by both criticality and expense. There was some discussion of expenses and fund-raising possibilities. The President recently met with Tongue Point Job Corps, who said that they can offer the College three students at a time to do full time work for six weeks. He is hoping that the College and workforce development will be able to fund a program using these students to work on many of the deferred maintenance projects.

Goal 5: By July 1, 2025 College reserves will be maintained (no operating budget deficit for 2024-25.) The President stressed that the College reserves are very low. He said they were at the absolute minimum they could be. He brought up the ERC credit, which was booked as revenue and still has not been received. He said that staying out of a deficit may require some tough decisions but that he wanted this goal to hold everyone involved in budgeting, including himself, accountable.

Goal 6: By May 1, 2025, the College will have completed and reported on both a staff climate survey and a student satisfaction survey, using the results to inform improvements in work culture and student experience. President Hogue said that this is the most important goal for him and he feels many colleges don't track this enough. He said that staff satisfaction is very important, particularly as the College moves out of a time of turmoil and lack of trust. He also stated that doing a better job assessing the whole student experience is very important. He said that he is working closely with ASG to build community and build a culture that students want to be a part of.

The Work Session adjourned at 5:21 pm.

REGULAR BOARD MEETING

Board Members Present: Ashley Flukinger, Ed Johnson, Tim Lyman, Lloyd Mueller, Sheila Roley, Jody Stahancyk, Mitra Vazeen

Others Present: Holly Tumbarello, Carla Moha, Bill Meck, Tina Kotson, Teena Toyas, Tom Ank, Anita Jensen, Kevin Leahy, Evon Jacobsen, Tamara Blackford, TJ Lackner, Josie Kero, President Jarrod Hogue, Recording Secretary Felicity Green

Ed Johnson called the meeting to order at 5:30 pm.

Jody Stahancyk moved to approve the agenda as presented. Mitra Vazeen seconded the motion. Ashley Flukinger, Ed Johnson, Tim Lyman, Lloyd Mueller, Sheila Roley, Jody Stahancyk and Mitra Vazeen voted Aye. The motion carried.

Public Comment: There was no public comment.

TEN MINUTE PRESENTATION: Holly Tumbarello, Medical Assisting Instructor, Certified Allied Health Instructor.

Holly Tumbarello gave a presentation about the Medical Assisting Program structured around the strategic plan. She stressed that Medical Assistants are highly trained staff in every medical center and that 95% of them in the area are CCC graduates. She said there are lots of empty positions and the field is growing rapidly. She has graduated over 300 students in her 20 plus years at the College. Recently, there have been more younger students coming directly out of high school into the MA program, which then often serves as a gateway into other medical careers. This year however there is an older class.

The admissions process has been recently streamlined; students must pass a criminal background check and a drug screen but that is all. CMH offers a fully paid scholarship for ten students who must work at the hospital for a year after graduation. There are other scholarship opportunities available as well. The College has 19 practicum sites in the area and an active advisory committee who help find more. The MA program is a 9 month certificate program; the College is certified by AMT – American Medical Technologists. 95 – 100% of students pass the certificate exam the first time they take it.

There were questions about the possibility of growing the program. Holly Tumbarello said that there is often significant attrition in the program due to life circumstances. It is an intensive fast paced program: students are in classes four to five days a week, all day. As students cannot work full time while they are in school, many drop out due to financial concerns or other life issues. Starting salaries for Medical Assistants in the area range from $22 to $24 an hour.

Tom Ank commented that he wanted the Board to know that DHS is moving into the Services building this month and will be able to provide students with services right on campus.

APPROVAL OF MINUTES

Jody Stahancyk moved to accept the September 4, 2024 Board Retreat Minutes as presented. Mitra Vazeen seconded the motion. Ashley Flukinger, Ed Johnson, Lloyd Mueller, Sheila Roley, Jody Stahancyk and Mitra Vazeen voted Aye. Tim Lyman abstained. The motion carried.

Felicity Green explained that the October 10 minutes had contained an error on page 5 about the changes in public comment on the Board meeting agendas but that she had corrected the error.

Mitra Vazeen moved to accept the October 10, 2024 Regular Board Meeting Minutes as amended. Jody Stahancyk seconded the motion. Ashley Flukinger, Ed Johnson, Lloyd Mueller, Sheila Roley, Jody Stahancyk and Mitra Vazeen voted Aye. Tim Lyman abstained. The motion carried.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

President Hogue spoke briefly about the OCCA Conference at Salishan last week. He said that he enjoyed seeing colleagues and friends from other colleges and spoke with a college president who was also having trouble with Anthology.

The recent NWCCU visit went well with some challenges. He said that Teena Toyas would speak about it later in the meeting and that they would both address it in depth at the December Board meeting. The College is in the fifth year of their seven-year accreditation cycle. This year, they will need to focus on policies and procedures. The College also needs to address the continued finding on the lack of data driven decision making. The President feels that this is underway with the passage of the Strategic Plan but cautioned that the College will have to develop their metrics and goals and take positive steps towards implementing them.

President Hogue said that he has been enjoying building a team and being involved in the community. He said that it is important that the College tell their success stories; there are so many great stories that the College should be proud of as they work to rebuild their reputation in the community. He thanked Kevin Leahy for connecting him with so many local organizations.

Ed Johnson asked him to speak a little more about item five in his written report. He said that he met Jay Blake, Planning Manager for Clatsop County at the CEDR Board meeting and spoke with him about how the College can help meet the county's workforce goals. The College is going to be part of their strategic plan and will be in a publication they are producing about the future of Clatsop County.

Tim Lyman asked if there was any update on the ERC. The President said that the College has received a notice from the IRS that things are being processed and they should hear the results soon. He said there was reason to be cautiously hopeful as they did not say it was denied. Tim Lyman asked if there was any information about extending the match program for the MERTS project. The President said that he and Kristen Wilkin have reached out and the College needs to provide a letter asking for the extension.

FINANCIAL REPORT

Bill Meck gave the financial report. At the start of the fiscal year, the College had an operating budget of $14,427,000. The College has had to reduce that by $247,000 because of the state appropriations adjustment. There will be another adjustment in January, which is a property tax adjustment. Last year that was minor and he hopes that it will be this year as well. The new operating budget expense total is $14,180,000. He identified resources that were not being spent, primarily salaries and benefits from open positions which have not been filled for six months. Due to these savings, the budget remains balanced.

There was some discussion of why this adjustment was needed. The state appropriations are not calculated at the time that the budget is drawn up. The budget was created on the assumption that enrollment would be flat. The error in FTE calculation that occurred due to the loss of the DPSST program did not get to the decision makers hands. The President stressed that the College has not done a good job for the last several years knowing their enrollment numbers and that needs to change.

Bill Meck explained that the budget under discussion is the operating budget and none of these changes will require reconvening the budget committee. He also explained that this year, due to the changeover to Colleague, there will be a significant timing difference in when revenue is received. So although it may look like the College is up over $300,000 in revenue at this point, it is actually only up $47,000 due to that timing difference.

There was some discussion of the Wauna Mill property tax appeal. This issue may end up costing the College as much as $112,000 if they are awarded all they are requesting. Bill Meck plans to sit down with President Hogue and go through the budget to find the extra funds. He is confident that the budget can stay balanced and they will not have to dip into contingency. There was also some discussion of timber revenues; the College will continue to monitor these revenues. Bill Meck and Jarrod Hogue agreed that they are working very closely together on the budget and feel cautiously optimistic, even given the setbacks.

Report from the ASG Representative

Josie Kero, ASG President, said that ASG celebrated world kindness day yesterday by giving out cupcakes and doing a drop in craft table for students. ASG also spoke at the Foundation scholarship celebration event.

OLD BUSINESS

Adoption of the Strategic Plan Framework

The President said that he had added more details as per the Board's request. He said that as the Plan progresses, the College will need to drill down and say what the actions and indicators are, where they are now and what are their goals. He said that building and finding baseline numbers is a work in progress. He said he planned to break the staff into groups and start working on these goals, beginning with building action steps to meet the goals. He said that over the next five years they will see growth on the indicators. He asked the Board to approve the plan so that staff can move forward.

Jody Stahancyk moved to accept the strategic plan. Mitra Vazeen seconded the motion. Ashley Flukinger, Ed Johnson, Tim Lyman, Lloyd Mueller, Sheila Roley, Jody Stahancyk and Mitra Vazeen voted Aye. The motion carried.

Review NWCCU Ad Hoc Committee Visit

President Hogue asked Teena Toyas, who has been the NWCCU liaison, to review the NWCCU visit on October 28. Dr. Krissy Kim and Chris Bragg were the accreditors who visited. Dr. Kim conducted the interviews for the Coast Guard and Tongue Point Job Corps unsolicited complaint which was received by NWCCU last February.

When the complaint was received in February, the College sent a packet of documents assembled by Teena Toyas, Kristen Wilkin and Mirranda Saari, who was Dean of Student Services at the time, to NWCCU. The College had not heard anything back from them about the complaint since then until they announced they were going to send someone with the ad hoc visit. They requested more information directly before the visit as well. The accreditors interviewed a student and an instructor. The Coast Guard currently doesn't have any new instructors and the ones who worked with the College in the past have been transferred. The College is not teaching those classes right now due to this lack of instructors; the Coast Guard will have to bring in instructors who have gone through their lengthy qualification process. Tongue Point Job Corps' maritime department is on hiatus right now as well. Job Corps is making decisions about that program and the College will have to wait and see what happens there.

NWCCU also wanted to follow up on a student complaint that was originally received in 2022. They dismissed the complaint last spring but wanted to follow up on changes the College has made to advising programs. The accreditors interviewed some students, advisors and student services and that went very well. They felt that College advising is moving in the right direction.

The accreditors acknowledged that the College had done great work with the Strategic Plan; however, they have not yet met the mark that they will need to prevent further findings. There has been a consistent issue with data driven decision making for several years. There are things that will have to be turned around in a short period of time; there are only two years left in this accreditation cycle. Looking at the institutional effectiveness report, there will be things that the College must get to work on immediately. The President reiterated that the work starts now. This report, which was just received, will be discussed in detail at December's Board meeting.

Teena Toyas continued by saying that there have already been some big turnarounds and that key staff positions such as the curriculum coordinator are being filled. The College has hired an Enrollment Systems Analyst in Student Services who has been doing behind the scenes work and has already made some gains. She said that NWCCU likes to see progress and feels that the College is moving in the right direction. She will be attending the NWCCU conference in Seattle next week and plans to meet with Dr. Selina Grace, who is CCC's main liaison.

NEW BUSINESS

Lloyd Mueller seconded the motion. Ashley Flukinger, Ed Johnson, Tim Lyman, Lloyd Mueller, Sheila Roley, Jody Stahancyk and Mitra Vazeen voted Aye. The motion carried.

Board Work Sessions

Ed Johnson said that there had been discussion about doing a work session before every Board meeting. He asked if the Board should have a work session in December on the Strategic Plan. The President said that he felt the College Council needed to sit down first to begin work on the plan. He said that at some point there would be updates but he didn't know if they would need to be discussed in a work session. There was general agreement that there should be a specific reason for work sessions. Tim Lyman said that the Budget Committee had wanted to have a meeting in the fall and that had not happened; he suggested that there should be training and planning meetings for the Budget Committee soon.

ANNOUNCEMENTS/COMMUNICATIONS

Jody Stahancyk moved to accept the information in the packet. Lloyd Mueller seconded the motion. Ashley Flukinger, Ed Johnson, Tim Lyman, Lloyd Mueller, Sheila Roley, Jody Stahancyk and Mitra Vazeen voted Aye. The motion carried.

Tim Lyman said that he highly recommends the OGEC training webinars; he learned a lot and felt they were very engaging.

Jody Stahancyk thanked Tom Ank and the College for accommodating her eyesight issues and making this meeting much more pleasant.

Mitra Vazeen said that she seconded what Lloyd Mueller said: the review was a good exercise and supportive for Jarrod Hogue.

Ed Johnson thanked Mitra Vazeen for the pumpkin pie.

Sheila Roley said that it was nice to see everyone on this rainy night and she is looking forward to seeing everyone face to face in December.

OCCA Update for College Boards - December 2024

4th Week Fall Enrollment Released

Oregon's community colleges are celebrating a promising increase in enrollment as the fourth-week enrollment reports from the state's Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC) revealed significant growth in overall headcount and Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) enrollment at the majority of community colleges statewide. The 4th Week Fall Enrollment Report was released by the HECC on Nov. 15.

According to the HECC, the overall college headcount during the fourth week of the fall term was 4.3 percent higher this year than in 2023 (90,961 students). This is the same as the national trend in headcount enrollment for community colleges. The number of FTE students is also higher in 2024 at 21,897 students, a 7 percent increase over this time in 2023. Though statewide enrollment has continued on an upward trend since 2023, it remains lower than pre-pandemic levels. Headcount is 17.6 percent lower than in fall 2019, and FTE is 14.2 percent lower.

It's important to note, however, that the decrease in FTE for 2024 occurs at two of the smallest Oregon community colleges representing a total of just under 6 students, whereas statewide the increase to FTE was 1,437 students.

Read more about the 4th Week Enrollment Report on the OCCA website: https://occa17.com/oregon-community-colleges-see-enrollment-surge/.

Fall State Revenue Forecast

State economists presented their quarterly economic and revenue forecast to legislators last week, showing state revenues up $950 million from the previous forecast and triggering Oregon's unique kicker law. State economists predict Oregon will send roughly $1.8 billion back to Oregon taxpayers based on the state's kicker law. Forecasters now expect $28.1 billion in General Fund revenue during Oregon's current budget cycle. That's nearly $3 billion more than the state's original forecast in 2023, and almost $1 billion more than the most recent forecast update in August. Click here to read OCCA's full response to the economic forecast.

OCCA Board to Meet Dec. 6

The OCCA Board of Directors will meet for their winter quarterly meeting on Friday, Dec. 6. The meeting will be hybrid, with those in-person attending at Mt. Hood Community College in Gresham. The Board will consider approval of the OCCA 2025 Legislative Session Priorities, which sets the legislative platform for OCCA for the 2025 Legislative Session. In addition, the Board will approve the 2025-27 Legislative and Regulatory Policy Positions document, which guides OCCA staff in taking policy positions during legislative sessions for the next biennium. The Board will also hear the annual update on the Student Success Metrics (formerly referred to as Early Momentum Metrics). The full agenda can be found one week prior to the meeting at https://occa17.com/occameetings/.

Once the OCCA Board approves its 2025 Legislative Priorities, college boards will be asked to support a resolution in support of those priorities. Stay tuned for a draft resolution. OCCA will also update its online 2025 Advocacy Toolkit with an informational one-pager outlining these priorities.

Post-Election Concern: Protecting Undocumented Students

With the recent election of Donald Trump as the next President, many colleges and universities across the country – including in Oregon – have expressed concerns about how they can protect undocumented students. President-elect Trump has on multiple occasions expressed his intentions to deport undocumented immigrants en masse and quash the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program, which protects immigrants brought to the U.S. as children from deportation and allows them to work and go to school in the U.S. Inside Higher Ed published an article Nov. 18 that outlines how leadership at some institutions across the country are responding, walking the fine line between preparing for potential policy changes while trying to avoid panic, and promising protections without stepping out of legal bounds or courting backlash. Check out the article by clicking here.

HECC approves BSN programs at community colleges

In November, six community colleges that are part of a consortium for Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) programs submitted a notice of application for the degrees to the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC). Their applications are now in progress and are in Phase 2 of 3 in that process. HECC consideration of approval will be done at a future meeting. The six colleges that submitted applications for approval of a BSN program include Central Oregon CC, Chemeketa CC, Klamath CC, Linn-Benton CC, Oregon Coast CC, and Treasure Valley CC. Lane CC has also submitted an application, but is only in Phase 1 of the process.

Clatsop WORKS Paid Internship Program & CCC Cooperative Work Experience Submitted by Misty Bateman, Program Manager

Clatsop WORKS

- 19 employers have registered so far to host a student intern next summer with a total of 28 internships. Eight more employers have let me know they will be registering before the deadline. Many of these employers are new to the program! Employers have until December 16th to register.
- Clatsop WORKS will be receiving funding again next academic year from Oregon Dept of Education to help facilitate more internship opportunities and career exploration for Clatsop County students! Last summer, we used our ODE grant to fully fund 4 internships. So far for summer 2025, we have approved five internships that we will fund from our ODE grant.
- Brandie Clark; Work-Based Learning Specialist at Oregon Department of Education (ODE), is showcasing our Clatsop WORKS program as a successful student work-based learning model to other educational institutions in Oregon. She attended our session in the summer when the intern cohort gave final presentations on their experiences, and on November 20th we gathered a panel of previous Clatsop WORKS interns from Astoria
 High to speak to their experience during ODE's monthly Work-Based Learning Lunch &
 Learn.
- Clatsop WORKS internships are providing long-term employment opportunities, which benefit students as well as local businesses. In the past few years, I know of at least 16 students who have been hired on as regular employees after the internship ended!
- I've been asked to serve on the Executive Leadership Team for the Northwest Regional Education Service District STEM Hub, which will allow me to represent Clatsop County's needs, better understand the NW STEM Hub's goals, programming, and resources, share CCC's opportunities and successes with other communities, and advise NWRESD on future directions and new connections.

• In addition, I am currently serving on the NW Regional ESD Career Connected Learning Steering & Advisory Board, as well as a member of the Oregon Community Colleges Cooperative Work Experience Professionals Group.

Introduction

Clatsop Community College (CCC), founded in 1958, is a two-year public institution located in Astoria, Oregon. Since its Mission Fulfillment and Sustainability evaluation in October 2019, the college has responded to the recommendation addressed in this report several times, including though ad-hoc reports with visits in Spring 2021 and Fall 2021, an ad-hoc report in Spring 2023, and the Fall 2024 ad-hoc report and visit addressed here. As a part of this visit, the college was also asked to address progress related to a previous Complaint around errors in advising, and to address concerns related to the Receipt of Unsolicited Information regarding the college's association with the Coast Guard and Job Corps.

Visit Summary

On September 16, 2024, CCC provided its report addressing the items to be covered during the visit, though few supporting documents or pieces of evidence were included. The narrative of the report did a thorough job of describing work that has been completed by the college in relation to Recommendation #1, but there was little analysis provided outlining how the college believes that the work has addressed the recommendation itself. For example, half of the 46-page report consisted of brief summaries from different units across the institution outlining how they independently use data within their units. No context for this section of the report was provided, nor was any clear attempt made to connect this section of the report to the recommendation being reviewed. While this section lengthened the report considerably, it did little to help the evaluation team assess the institution's progress on the recommendation. Finally, the section of the report addressing the "Concerns Related to Receipt of Unsolicited Information" provided almost no new information or analysis, but simply referred the evaluation team to information that the college had already provided to the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU) staff Liaison. In short, given the gravity of the items reviewed by the evaluation team, focus and intentionality in the report itself was lacking.

The lack of evidence (e.g., examples of advising materials, strategic planning materials, documents related to Coast Guard instruction) submitted with the report, forced the evaluators to reach out to both the institution and to NWCCU several times in order to gain access to the documents needed to conduct a thorough evaluation. Most of the documents requested from the institution were eventually provided, but only one week prior to the visit, despite being initially being requested three weeks prior to the team's arrival. While the team appreciated access to these documents, receiving them in a more timely manner would have been appreciated.

The two-person evaluation team visited CCC on October 28, 2024, for a one-day visit. During the visit, nine meetings were held with college personnel including CCC administrators, faculty, staff, and students. In all, more than 40 college personnel with knowledge and expertise related to the outstanding recommendation, the concerns related to the Complaint, and the concerns related to the Receipt of Unsolicited Information, met with the team. The college personnel were open and forthright in their assessment of the college's work in these areas. The evaluators would like to thank the college for its openness and hospitality during the visit.

At the same time, the evaluation teams encourages CCC to review NWCCU guidance around hosting evaluation teams prior to the next time a team visits campus. Practices that were unusual, and that are clearly addressed in NWCCU documentation, included not providing the team with a secure and private workspace (the team room was also scheduled for meetings with one of the two evaluators), providing outside Zoom access to several meetings without prior notification to the evaluators and without setting the Zoom links up through the Commission, not providing name tags for the evaluators, and not separating meetings with students and faculty from meetings that included administrators, among others. While none of these issues prevented the evaluation team from completing its work, it did make the visit more difficult and made it appear that planning and execution of the visit had not been a priority for the college.

Recommendation 1:

Fall 2021 Ad Hoc Report with Visit - Review and revise institutional planning processes to ensure that data collectively support mission fulfillment and effective strategic decision-making. (2020 Standard(s) 1.B.1; 1.B.3; 1.B.4)

- 1.B.1 The institution demonstrates a continuous process to assess institutional effectiveness, including student learning and achievement and support services. The institution uses an ongoing and systematic evaluation and planning process to inform and refine its effectiveness, assign resources, and improve student learning and achievement.
- 1.B.3 The institution provides evidence that its planning process is inclusive and offers opportunities for comment by appropriate constituencies, allocates necessary resources, and leads to improvement of institutional effectiveness.
- 1.B.4 The institution monitors its internal and external environments to identify current and emerging patterns, trends, and expectations. Through its governance system it considers such findings to assess its strategic position, define its future direction, and review and revise, as necessary, its mission, planning, intended outcomes of its programs and services, and indicators of achievement of its goals.

Progress on Recommendation 1:

As noted in the introduction to this report, Recommendation #1 originated with CCC's Fall 2019 Mission Fulfillment and Sustainability report and visit. Although revised in 2021 following an ad-hoc visit, the recommendation has been deemed to be non-compliant by the Commission for the past five years.

In light of the struggles the institution has had in its ongoing attempts to address the recommendation using past strategic planning and institutional assessment frameworks, the college made the decision in 2023 to partner with a consulting firm to create a new mission, vision, and set of values for CCC, and to begin the creation and implementation of a new strategic planning and institutional assessment process. Based upon the report, materials provided, and interviews with college personnel, this has been a very successful process. As of October 2024, the framework for a new strategic plan has been established and there appears to have been widespread internal and external participation in its creation. Moreover, the planning framework appears to have been intentionally drafted with this feedback in mind. Visits with college personnel indicate that there is excitement and energy around the new strategic plan and the process that has been undertaken to get to this point. Multiple college personnel indicated that they feel that the new draft plan has measurable indicators which other plans have been missing, and also indicated that they can see how their particular parts of the college fit into this new plan, a connection they have struggled to make in the past.

It was clear from visits with college personnel that the outside consulting group provided the structure and accountability that CCC needed to get the new planning framework created. This structure included the assembly of a core team and cohort groups which have taken ownership of the five plan priorities. College employees reported that the process has broken down silos, increased the desire to use data for decision-making, and led to more buy in than they can remember seeing during previous planning efforts. The college should be proud of the work that they have accomplished over the past 18 months in this area, work that has been accomplished in spite of significant turnover in high level administrative positions, governance challenges, and the failed implementation of a college-wide software system.

The new strategic plan was presented to the CCC Board of Education on October 10, 2024, but only in its most basic form, which included the revised vision, mission, and set of values, along with headers for the five strategic priorities. Based upon a review of the Board packet for the October meeting, the actions and indicators provided to the evaluation team were not provided to the Board during that meeting. College administration indicated that they plan to have the full plan before the Board in November and will ask for final approval. While the evaluation team was supplied with the actions and indicators tied to each of the five strategic priority areas, it was not clear how widespread these have been shared with the campus community. The indicators and actions also appear to still be under revision. How meaningful the proposed indicators (in their current iteration) will be for CCC is not always clear, nor is their alignment to the strategic priorities always intuitive. The college is encouraged to continue to refine these indicators to ensure that they will provide CCC with meaningful and actionable data that will aid in the continuous improvement process.

While the evaluation team was impressed with the recent work that has been done to create a new strategic plan, the college is arguably no further along in fulfilling Recommendation #1 than it was at the conclusion of its ad-hoc visit in 2021. At that time, the ad-hoc team wrote the following:

"... there is still much work to be done. Analysis of strategic plan indicators to ensure they are meaningful and verifiable has just begun. Thresholds for these indicators have not been set. Decision on the subset of strategic plan indicators to serve as mission fulfillment indicators has not occurred. Threshold of mission fulfillment has not been determined. Revision of campus planning processes based on incorporation of these indicators to provide data driven decision making has not yet been implemented."

This previous language outlines a point in time that is virtually identical to where CCC is three years later. The evaluation team strongly encourages CCC to move forward with this new planning framework with a sense of urgency. As noted above, the work with the outside consulting group appears to have been instrumental in giving the college the structure and accountability that it needed in order to get to where it is today. However, that contract has ended. While the college personnel leading the strategic planning process noted that the consulting group has provided the college with an implementation framework, CCC is now on its own for getting the plan approved and implemented. Given the short turnaround the college has before its next Evaluation of Institutional Effectiveness report and visit, and the fact that this new creation of a strategic plan is only the initial step in a series of processes in which the college will need to engage in order to accomplish a full cycle of assessment, it is imperative that the institution move forward with the approval and full implementation of this plan as quickly as possible.

Concerns Related to Student Complaint:

- Address progress on errors in advising
- Address progress on student advising program

Progress on Concerns Related to Student Complaint:

The evaluation team reviewed the progress CCC has made related to the Complaint received by NWCCU in 2022 around errors in advising and the college's student advising program. A review of evidence and interviews with college personnel revealed that the college has continued to focus on improvements in this area. The college has changed its advising structure by moving student advising under the college's TRIO program and adding a new student success coach to the TRIO team. This shift led TRIO to serve 135 students in the summer of 2024 for advising appointments. College staff indicated that the quality of the advising that is being offered to students has improved with the use of professionally trained advisors in the TRIO program. Two students interviewed during the visit indicated strong satisfaction with the advising that they have received from TRIO and with the sense of belonging that it has provided them at CCC. The TRIO Director also indicated that the new advising system is driving more students to the TRIO offices where they are able to get additional support and to develop a connection with other students.

The college has also implemented the use of Canvas shells that faculty are using to work with students who are assigned to them as advisees. Initial use of these shells, which appear to be well-designed and easy to navigate, is encouraging. Faculty report that a significant number of students are logging into the Canvas advising shells and actively using them as a channel for communicating about advising. Faculty also report that the Canvas shells have given them more confidence in their ability to accurately advise students, provided a greater sense of community around advising, and that student advising is in a better place than it has been in the past.

The college outlined several advising related improvements that are ongoing in the report that was made available to the evaluation team and the college is encouraged to continue its focus in these areas.

Concerns Related to Receipt of Unsolicited Information:

- Address Coast Guard and Tongue Point Job Corps agreements
- Address Coast Guard and Tongue Point Job Corps course offerings and transcription processes

Progress on Concerns Related to Receipt of Unsolicited Information:

The evaluation team reviewed CCC's response to concerns related to the Receipt of Unsolicited Information about the college's work with the Coast Guard and Job Corps. Clatsop has two agreements to provide dual credit through articulation with the Job Corp at Tongue's Point and the Coast Guard and provided signed 2023-24 agreements for both. For the Coast Guard, all instructors are hired by the college and supported by college personnel who visit the training site at least once a month. For the Jobs Corp, a lead instructor is hired by the college for each training pathway. These lead instructors are supported by college personnel who are on site at least once a week. The leads conduct all the assessments. Instruction is provided by other instructors who are hired by Job Corps and supervised by the lead instructor. The instructor qualifications are consistent with the college's processes for Career-Technical Education (CTE) "college in the high school" credentialing. Instructors must have a bachelor's degree, though that requirement can be waived with three years relevant experience and appropriate industry specific credentials through an annual waiver process. The college is in the process of updating these waivers and provided a copy of one from 2021. There are five full-time faculty positions at Clatsop for maritime program instructors, three of which are currently filled.

When students complete their training series at Job Corps or the Coast Guard, they meet with a college coordinator who helps them fill out a registration form. The form is submitted to an evaluation team member who uses a checklist to confirm that all outcomes have been met and then awards credit. The credits are all awarded in one term for trainings that take place over 12-18 months. Students are sent a letter when this process is complete letting them know how many credits were earned and what certificates and degrees those credits might be applicable to, as well as who to contact at the college to continue their education. Coast Guard students can use their Tuition Assistance to take any remaining degree or certificate requirements.

In the past five years, 728 students earned a range of credits from 21-55 with an average of 28 credits per student. All credits earned are awarded in the term the training series or program is complete. The FTE generated by students in these two programs combined ranged from 61-138 FTE the past five years, with most years being just over 100, which is a little under 1/6 of CCC's total enrollment. Credit is applied through an articulation process with students enrolled in Clatsop because the curriculum is in alignment and the college hires and supports the instructors.

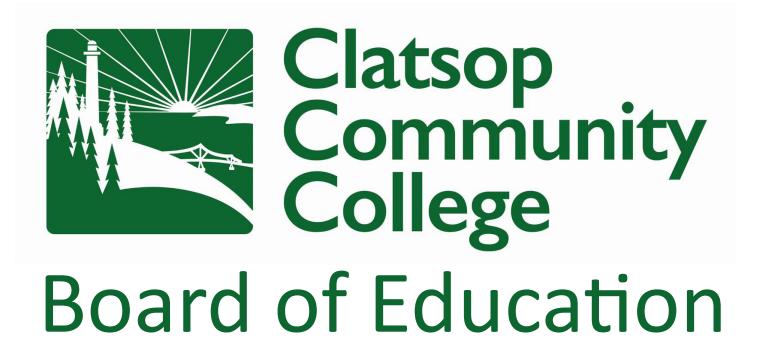

Because industry requires certifications rather than college certificates or degrees, only one to two students from each program complete a college certificate or degree each year. A few students have reported back earning degrees later at other institutions in other states using the credits earned at Clatsop.

The curriculum is consistent across these two programs and the campus program. Additionally, curriculum and assessments are fully in alignment with the International Maritime Standards for the industry required certifications. Syllabi are sent to the college once a year for review. The syllabi provided to the evaluation team were consistent with the course outlines in the college catalog. A full curriculum review takes place every five years. Testing and hands-on assessment are required to earn the certifications. Students must pass all the assessments for a program in order to get any credit towards that program. The college employee who was most recently responsible for Credit for Prior Learning (CPL) has left the college and CCC is in the process of rebuilding this option. CPL is used when a crosswalk has not yet been created between the college curriculum and Coast Guard trainings. Program reviews involve the advisory committees looking at testing data for the different credentialing programs, including passing rates, and common errors.

College staff reported that instruction typically involves being underway (out at sea doing the classroom learning into practice to run the boat), classroom and hands-on instruction, and classroom and hands-on assessment. The one Job Corps student who met with the evaluation team described their time as mostly studying on their own in workbooks with two hours a week for testing and one hour a week doing hands-on work. There is an 18-month time limit for this program and the student only earned the Ordinary Seaman (OS) credential which is 12 credits at the college. The student was one test short of Qualified Member of the Engine Department (QMED) and five tests short of Able Seaman (AB). The student is currently enrolled in the college's Associate of Vessel Operations program. The 12 credits they earned are applicable to this degree. The student will have to take some classes that repeat information they learned during Job Corps because they didn't complete all the tests in order to get all the credentials there and partial credit is not awarded. The college reported that this student's experience of instruction is not typical. During this student's time at Job Corps both of the lead instructors left and many of the other instructors followed them to other positions. Furthermore, the ship typically used for instruction had some issues and was put into drydock so it could not be used for instruction. The program at Job Corps is currently on hiatus while Job Corps hires new instructors. Once those instructors are in place they will need to complete a Clatsop faculty application in order to be considered for approval, depending on qualifications, as an articulated instructor for the college.

In summary, strengths around these programs include a commitment to providing college credit for learning related to maritime jobs, including those in the Coast Guard and alignment with International Maritime standards. On the other hand, challenges include ensuring high quality instruction is taking place and remediating/intervening when necessary, and providing partial credit toward college and degree programs when industry credentials have been started but not fully earned, thereby forcing students to repeat content in order to earn college credit.
